About Me

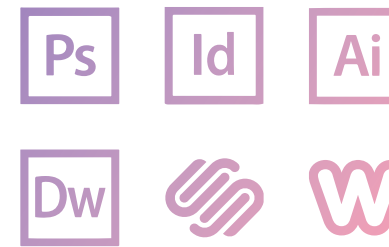

I am a recent graduate from the TAFE SA Advanced Diploma of Graphic design. In the coming years, I hope to obtain further education both through the industry and a university degree at Adelaide University. I have been passionate about graphic design, photography, and other creative mediums since studying them in high school, and hope to turn my hobbies into a successful career. I also have an interest in web design and illustration, and hope to better my skills in the coming years.
